Birds of Cedar Bog

Breeding Birds Cedar Bog and Vicinity

June 17, 2006
Updated April, 2007

This list was initially established for a meeting of the Ohio Ornithological Society at Cedar Bog in June of 2006. It was assembled by Cheryl Harner and Jim McCormac of the OOS. Initially it included only 92 species that are known to breed within the 427-acre Cedar Bog State Memorial, or in the immediate vicinity. Other species are possible; if you see any additions, please write them in. Be on the lookout for confirmation of breeding, too, such as active nests, newly fledged birds, adults carrying nesting material or fecal sacs, etc.

In 2007 the list was updated to include migrants and rare or uncommon sightings.

Please report your list of birds, and particularly any evidence of breeding, to:
